

Tahirou Assane Oumarou, P.Eng, PMP

Director of Operations,

Brightline Initiative

Tahirou Assane Oumarou has over 15 years of experience in leadership roles, civil engineering, strategy, transformation, and project management. As Director of Operations of the Brightline Initiative, Tahirou oversees the activities under the three benefit pillars of thought and practice leadership, networking, and capability building. From 2013 to 2017, Tahirou worked as the deputy director of infrastructure and project management group in the United Nations Office for Project Services supporting the successful implementation of peacebuilding, humanitarian, and development projects around the world. Prior to the United Nations, Tahirou was a senior project manager with the Ministry of Transportation in Ontario where he provided technical capabilities and expertise to ensure excellence in the delivery of complex highway projects with multi-disciplinary teams.

===

Topic: Why great ideas fail and how to make sure they don't

===

There's no shortage of great ideas, but not every one of them becomes a reality. Pinpointing 'why' is at the core of the Brightline Initiative's mission. In this dynamic and interactive workshop, participants will discover the 10 Brightline principles developed to help Organizations Bridge the costly and wasteful gap between strategy design and delivery. Participants will have the opportunity to apply the principles on a practical example.

===

The topic might change as we are currently working on a Transformation offering geared toward PMPs that I could present instead. We are in the early stage of development.

For the C-Level Engagement if secured the talk will be about Transformation.