

Adeola Akande

Adeola Akande is the Transformation/Change Management Lead at Dangote Industries Limited in Lagos, Nigeria.

Over the last 25 years, Adeola Akande has been privileged to work in Nigeria and the United States across a broad spectrum of business sectors including Banking, Technology, Telecommunications, and currently at one of Nigeria and Africa's largest Manufacturing conglomerates.

Adeola is a PROSCI certified Change Management practitioner (Italy 2013) and also obtained an SAP Master certification as a Global Business Transformation manager using BTM2 methodology. (Germany 2016) Prior to this Adeola has many technology certifications obtained in the USA having worked in IT for over 20 years.

She is a member of PMI global and currently serves in a volunteer role as the Chairperson of the PMI Africa working group (Project Management Institute). She is also a member of ACMP Global (Association of Change Management Professionals)

In her current role at Dangote, she has had the opportunity to be a major driver in diverse enterprise-wide Transformation Initiatives and multiple SAP ERP Implementations.