

INNOCENT KAYIGAMBA

Innocent is among the first ten PMP certified in Rwanda and is passionate about bridging the gap between user stories and product delivery.

Currently, he is the IT Project Manager at Rwanda Revenue Authority and takes pleasure in helping the organization turning ideas into results.

He has spent the majority of his career in the Telecommunications and IT industry, gaining experience in planning and delivering infrastructure projects among which, the migration from analog broadcasting to digital.

While project management is his primary job function, Innocent also has experience in operations gained while assuming technical operations of state-owned television.
