

Mohamed is the cofounder and managing Partner of Avaliance, a Digital & IT consulting firm, based in Paris, Casablanca and Rabat. With more than 15 years in consulting, he leads IT transformation program for big companies in different fields. Since 2020, Mohamed has been also director of the prestigious Engineering and Business School in Morocco “High Tech School”.

Since he was young, Mohamed has been interested by entrepreneurship and joined “Maroc Entrepreneurs association” based in Paris, in 2007 as member and then president from 2009 to 2012. He assisted young entrepreneur in their business plan and helped them to be connected to investors.

Mohamed was born in Rabat and lives now between Paris and Rabat. He has a master of telecommunication from “Telecom Bretagne” and mobile certificate from “Eurecom Institute”.