

Florence Chikezie is the founder of ReDahlia and an award-winning entrepreneur whose mission is to raise a new wave of entrepreneurs who will run sustainable businesses.

She earned a Master's degree in International Business from Hult International Business School, London, one of the world's best business schools.

In addition to running three successful businesses; ReDahlia Workspaces, The Business Clinic, and Entrepreneurs.ng, she has worked with entrepreneurs, start-ups and established businesses across different industries.

My wealth of experience and that of her team has contributed to building many businesses.

She brings nothing but excellence to the table. We are democratizing business knowledge and opportunities through our platform: <https://entrepreneurs.ng/>. "