

Mounina Tounkara is an IT engineer, a PMP-certified project manager and a TED@PMI Speaker. With more than ten years of experience in the IT industry, she works as a consultant in project management. She is a volunteer at PMI France Chapter and serves as leader of a study group on PMBOK7.

Her research interest is in the field of African traditional leadership and African values for justice; she is profoundly attached to Ubuntu's value of "humanness" for caring and sharing. She respects equity, belonging, social harmony and community wellbeing. Tounkara speaks English, French, Bambara and Soninke.