

OLUFIFUN ADELEKE

Olufifun Adeleke (PMP, SFC, SSYB) is a young, resourceful and dynamic project management professional. Working on projects across the construction, agriculture and arts/entertainment industries in Nigeria has given him versatility and deep insights into unique dimensions of project management practice very few are privileged to have.

He is a Mechanical Engineering graduate of Obafemi Awolowo University, Nigeria, currently working as a Project Manager and Executive in a real estate development firm, as well as an independent project management consultant.

Olufifun lives in Lagos, Nigeria, and enjoys creating music and spending time with friends and family.
