

Professor Yakubu Aboki Ochefu is a historian and a scholar-practitioner. He holds degrees in History, Political Economy and Economic History from the Universities of Calabar and Birmingham. His academic career traverses the University of Calabar and Benue State University Makurdi. At BSU, he held positions such as Head, Department of History, Dean of Students Affairs and Deputy Vice-Chancellor. He served as Vice-Chancellor of Kwararafa University, Wukari in Taraba State, from 2012 to 2017.

He was appointed Secretary-General of the Committee of Vice-Chancellors of Nigerian Universities in 2019. He is a Fellow and former National President of the Historical Society of Nigeria, a Special Fulbright Fellow, and the current National President of the University of Calabar Alumni Association. As an ICT Consultant and part-time entrepreneur, he has led teams to develop transaction portals for institutions of higher learning in several countries and promoted several businesses in IT and Publishing.