

Dr. Vandyck Lomotey, CHRMP-TD, PMP®

Dr. Vandyck Lomotey is currently the Director for Early Career Success program of the Africa Careers Network with African Leadership Academy. As part of the Early Career Success team, his role ranges from working with corporate partners to create employment and internship opportunities for young people, implementing career development initiatives, coaching young professionals to transition into the world of work and developing career support functions in universities across Africa, North America and Middle East. His main passion is about talent and leadership development to create opportunities for young people on the African continent.

He holds a Doctorate in Intercultural Studies, a certified project management practitioner from PMI, and a certified behavioral coach with Clarity4D in the UK. He was born in Ghana and currently transitioning to Johannesburg.