

Andrew has invaluable experience working with multinational corporations which underpins his profound understanding of building ecosystems that enable innovators, partners and all stakeholders to connect and flourish.